The disappearance of Dr. Bates oc curred on August 30, a year ago, after he had played in an international tennis tournament at Newport, where he had Roussin been for the summer with his wife and little boy. Going to New York on August 25 to see some patients, he wrote to his wife on August 29 that he was going to perform an operation that day on a sea captain. That is the last seen of him in this country. In October, a year ago, Mr. Bates received word in Washington that his son was in Charing Cross Hospital, London, where he was entered as a student and acting in a manner that was considered unnatural

Disappeared in the Night.

Taking her boy with her, Mrs. Bates astened to London and located her usband at the University College. His nind seemed to be a blank regarding his past life. Dr. Bates accompanied his wife to the Savoy Hotel, where she was stopping. They remained there a few days preparatory to returning to the United States when one morning Mrs. Bates awoke to find that her husband had disappeared in the night. He left no word, and though search has been made everywhere, he has not been heard from since. Mrs. Bates went to Paris to live for a time, making inquiries at the different hospitals. Finally her relatives feared for the safety of her mind

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE SERVICES.

The subject of the lesson sermon in terday was "Probation After Death," ciative congregations. The sermon explained the view of Christian Science upon future rewards and punishments. They maintain that as evil is impersonal and unrest, a negation, but claims the power of embodying itself and delegate, making on and progress out of all sin, all faith in materialism, and find rest and peace in the divine mind.

When the mission, which has been in progress for two weeks, closed with the solemn blessing of the mission eross by the papal delegate, Mgr. Diomede Falconio. Previous to the ceremony of blessing the cross there was a procession around the church of priests, altar boys, and the several societies of the parish. The cross was borne by a guard of honor, composed of Nicholas Auth, Clem Geible, A. Newland, and John The Rev. Dr. Frank Sewall, pastor of the National Church of this city; vice president, the Rev. 'Organized endeavor is the watchword of our religious as well as of our na-tional life. The development of the individual in time and for eternity is the object which our double government, civil and religious, ever seeks. In addition, we have banded together as Knights of Columbus to solidify our One Knocked Down and the Other Catholic spirit, to enlarge our sphere of concerted action in all that makes for the religious and moral uplifting of our fellow-men, and to teach ourselves in this age of misgiving and criticism that the truest life a man may live is that which is nourished by faith, encouraged by hope and admiration, and influence by charity. We have but just witnesse the entire world paying its tribute to the leadership of Pope Leo XIII, and we are now living under the pontificate of his successor, Pius X, in whose noble soul the same spiritual fires are burn-ing for the good of humanity and the furtherance of Christ's kingdom among
